

1. Membership Options & Fees

Membership of the Landscape Research Group (LRG) is rolling for a 12-month period; when a member joins, they will be a member for the next 12 months.

We currently offer the following membership options, irrespective of geographical location:

Standard membership	Full-time student membership
£52 (€60)	£28 (€35)

Full-time students are able to join with a reduced rate, as above.

2. Joining and renewing

Members may join or renew online at www.landscaperesearch.org. Online payment will be taken through a secure system; LRG doesn't see any payment details. For more information on your data, see below: 4. Member data and privacy.

We encourage everybody to pay online. If this is not possible, we also accept members joining or renewing by completing a membership form and payment by bank transfer or cheque. Please contact LRG's Membership & Communications Manager for more details:

3. Member benefits

We are building a worldwide community of interest with opportunities to learn, meet and collaborate with others who share a common interest in landscape research and practice. By joining, members directly support our work and activities such as the Research Fund, giving grants to projects which align with our strategic aims.

All members also receive the following:

- Paper copies of our peer-reviewed journal Landscape Research, eight times a year
- Unlimited online access to current and back issues of Landscape Research, accessible via the Members' Area of our website (www.landscaperesearch.org) or directly via the Taylor & Francis website (<https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/clar20/current>)
- Receive online or paper copies of Landscape Research Extra, a supplementary publication of more informal thought pieces, photo essays, reports and best practice from landscape practitioners such as landscape architects, ecologists, and archaeologists, issued at least three times yearly
- Have unlimited free online access to an additional five Routledge journals: Landscape History; Landscapes; Social & Cultural Geography; International Journal of Heritage Studies; Journal of Environmental Policy & Planning, accessed via the Members' Area of our website (www.landscaperesearch.org)
- Bi-monthly E-bulletin of LRG-related events, funding and research opportunities, publications, vacancies, and highlights of relevant LRG content and news
- 20% off all Routledge publications
- Reduced Member rates at LRG conferences and events

- Reduced rates at some events organised by our partners
- Eligibility to apply for project grants under our International Research Fund
- The right to vote for Directors of the Board, and to stand for election
- The opportunity to shape LRG's strategic priorities

4. Member data and privacy

We keep member data in an online membership database, for LRG membership purposes only, and have Non-Disclosure Agreements in place with relevant partners (Dickiebirds, our website and membership system provider, and Taylor & Francis, the publisher of Landscape Research). We will never share your data with third parties unless directly related to maintaining a membership system, in which case we will have Non-Disclosure Agreements in place. We will never sell your data to any third party.

For details on what member data we hold, and for how long, please see our complete Privacy Policy at: <https://www.iubenda.com/en/privacy-policy/57479955/legal> The policy also details your Rights as members, and how to exercise your rights, object, and request your data.

5. Communication

We will communicate with you about your membership primarily by email (using the email address you provided) or by post. This will include emails about e.g. membership renewal, membership category (for example if your student membership is coming to an end), any outstanding payments, and AGM notification and voting.

We also produce an E-bulletin as part of our benefits package to members. This is usually sent out every two months (not more frequently). You can unsubscribe at any time by clicking the link at the bottom of any of those emails, or request to unsubscribe by contacting us directly: sarah.hobbs@landscaperesearch.org.
